WE'RE READY TO SHOW YOU THE NEW THINGS FOR FALL

The Garments now on exhibition in the Ready-to-Wear section are typical of the accepted and authoritative fashions for the Fall season, and we are fully ready to have you pass judgment on our efforts in your behalf in this department. We want you to come and see our exhibit of women's garments in its entirety; an hour or more spent here will give one a correct interpretation of what is to be worn this season.

The Prices: Ours are always fair, generally lowest, invariably satisfactory--because attached to nothing but satisfactory goods.

The Dress Goods Section

is ready for fall with every new weave and pattern that is destined to find favor as a dress material.

EXTRA SUIT SALE

YOUR OPPORTUNITY---NOW!

Deliberate choice of 250 Suits that we were lucky enough to buy from the manufacturer at a great sacrifice, therefore you can buy them at a great saving. We have divided them into six sections, on separate counters, and are as follows:

Mrs. Toby Sauter and mother visited at Sabinal this week.

Miss Viola Luckenbach is spending a few days in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Koch and son, Alois, arrived here from San Antonio Sunday evening to spend a few days with relatives and friends.

THIS COLT WAS A FAMILY PET

Old Lady Mourned the Loss of a Frisky Young Thing Twenty-Two Years Old.

Mrs. U. S. Grant was spending one summer in the New England hills and she happened to be at hand when a native woman walked into the yard to deliver some eggs. "It's a long walk to town," the woman volunteered. "Don't you own a horse?" asked Mrs. Grant. The woman sniveled. "We had a colt, but it died last week." She suddenly began to weep. Mrs. Grant sympathetically remarked that the family must have been very fond of the colt, whereupon the woman dried her eyes. "Fond of him? Well, I should say. It was like seein' one of the family took, to see that colt go as he did. We all loved every inch of him." Mrs. Grant inquired how they came to love the colt so dearly. "Why," indignantly sobbed the woman, "we've had that colt now for goin' on to twenty-two years!"—Circle Magazine.

The Lash of a Fiend

would have been about as welcome to A. Cooper of Oswego, N. Y., as a merciless lung-racking cough that defied all remedies for years. "It was most troublesome at night," he writes, "nothing helped me till I used Dr. King's New Discovery which cured me completely. I never cough at night now." Millions know its matchless merit for stubborn colds, obstinate coughs, sore lungs, lagrippe, asthma, hemorrhage, croup, whooping cough, or hay fever. It relieves quickly and never fails to satisfy. A trial convinces. 50c, $1.00 Trial bottle free. It's positively guaranteed by W. H. Windrow.

Sneezed at Her.

The courtroom was crowded. A wife was seeking divorce on the grounds of extreme cruelty and abusive treatment. Guns, axes, rolling pins and stinging invectives seemed to have played a prominent part in the plaintiff's married life.

The husband was on the stand undergoing a grueling cross-examination.

The examining attorney said: "You have testified that your wife on one occasion threw cayenne pepper in your face. Now, sir, kindly tell us what you did on that occasion."

The witness hesitated and looked confused. Every one expected that he was about to confess to some shocking act of cruelty. But their hopes were shattered when he finally blurted out:

"I sneezed!"—Everybody's Magazine.

To Be Happy

you must have good health. You can't have good health if your liver is not doing its duty—slow but sure poisoning is going on all the time under such circumstances. Ballard's Herbine makes a perfectly healthy liver—keeps the stomach and bowels right and acts as a tonic for the entire system. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

Some Pay More.

The man was looking over the family bills as his wife glanced through the paper. "Oh, John," she said, "it tells here of a young fellow who was fined $6.80 for flirting." "That's cheaper than I got off," replied the man, his eye still on the bills.

A Burglar in Town

his name is "bad cough". He doesn't care for gold or silver but he will steal your health away. If he appears in your house arrest him at once with Ballard's Horehound Syrup, it may mean consumption if you don't. A cure for all coughs, colds and chest troubles. Price 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by W. H. Windrow.

You never really know your friends until they become your enemies!

When the unexpected happens, the "I told you so!" chap is in his glory!

Occasionally there is a man wise enough to "think" poetry without writing it!

No Man is Stronger Than His Stomach

A strong man is strong all over. No man can be strong who is suffering from weak stomach with its consequent indigestion, or from some other disease of the stomach and its associated organs, which impairs digestion and nutrition. For when the stomach is weak or diseased there is a loss of the nutrition contained in food, which is the source of all physical strength. When a man "doesn't feel just right," when he doesn't sleep well, has an uncomfortable feeling in the stomach after eating, is languid, nervous, irritable and despondent, he is losing the nutrition needed to make strength.

Such a man should use Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It enriches the blood, invigorates the liver, strengthens the kidneys, nourishes the nerves, and so GIVES HEALTH AND STRENGTH TO THE WHOLE BODY.

You can't afford to accept a secret nostrum as a substitute for this non-alcoholic medicine of known composition, not even though the dealer may thereby make a little bigger profit. Ingredients printed on wrapper.

For bowel complaints in children always give Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and castor oil. It is certain to effect a cure and when reduced with water and sweetened is pleasant to take. No physician can prescribe a better remedy. For sale by all dealers.

If a man occasionally tells his wife
how pretty she looks she will forgive most of the other lies he tells her!

Diarrhoea is always more or less prevalent during September. Be prepared for it. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is prompt and effectual. It can always be depended upon and is pleasant to take. For sale by all dealers.

Best Treatment For a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the parts without leaving a scar. This salve is also unequalled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin.
Price, 25 cents. For sale by all dealers.

If you would try to follow the advice of all your alleged friends it would be a padded cell for you!

Digestion and Assimilation.

It is not the quantity of food taken but the amount digested and assimilated that gives strength and vitality to the system. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets invigorate the stomach and liver and enable them to perform their functions naturally. For sale by all dealers.

A shrewd man may be both wise and honest, but the chances are that he isn't either!

As usually treated, a sprained ankle will disable a man for three or four weeks, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment freely as soon as the injury is received, and observing the directions with each bottle, a cure can be effected in from two to four days.
For sale by all dealers.

After reading some of the patent medicine testimonials we can't see why people die!

"I have a world of confidence in Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for I have used it with perfect success," writes Mrs. M. I. Basford, Poolesville, Md. For sale by all dealers.

WHY OLD LADY HAS ALMOST LOST CONFIDENCE IN THEM.

Happening Down in Prohibition Geor-

That State.

"Since prohibition broke out in Georgia state," said the old lady, "I'd be suspicious after the old man of he should come home with a big seal ring on his finger, for I'd think it had some connection with drammin'.
an' that thar wuz a secret pipe line runnin' from it to some pocket whar he had a flask hid, an' that you jest pressed the button an' the flask done
the rest!"

"I thought it wuz bad enough when the ol' man wuz carryin' a book aroun' marked 'New Testament' an' lo an behol' it wuz as holler on the inside as the ol' man's head is, with jest room enough for a flat pint flask! An' what wuz the worst of it, the pint flask wuz thar, an' hit plumb full!"

"But now I'm a-comin' to what wuz wuss'n that; Deacon Jones spent the night with us las' Tuesday wuz a week, an' after the supper wuz took away an' we wuz settin' roun' the table—the ol' man smokin' an' me knittin'—the deacon 'lowed that he had a ragin' headache. Now, it so happened that once, when the ol' man come home full, an' I had the favorable opportunity to sarch his pockets, I found a purty big box with a label on it sayin' thar wuz 'Sealache Pills' inside."

"Well, I put it in the medicine chist an' fergot all about it till then when I gets it out, an' tells the deacon 'bout
it. 'I'll jest try one o' them pills,' he says, 'mebbe it'll ease th' pain.' As the deacon took the box in his han' I noticed the ol' man looked mighty intelligent and said that as he likewise had the misery in his head, he'd jest try the remedy himself."

"An' now I'm a-comin' to the story:
Both him and the deacon took one apiece; then the deacon said that the one he took only eased one side o' his head, an' he reckoned he'd take another. 'Same here,' says the ol' man; an' down went two more pills. They're mighty big ones,' says the deacon, 'an'
they bust in yer mouth an' slide down yer throat like they wuz greased!'
'They do,' says the ol' man—swallerin'
two more—'that's the beauty of 'em.'"

"Well, in less time than it takes to tell, the deacon riz up an' hit the table with his fist sayin' that he wuz a better man than the preacher; the ol' man knocked the lamp over an' said he wuz a better man than the deacon, an' to my evelastin' horror both of 'em started for the front yard to settle the difference of opinion. You see it now, don't you? Them 'pills' wuz nothin' more n'er less than what you might call concentrated liker in disguise!
To prove it to my own satisfaction, I took one of 'em myself an' in less'n two minutes I had a holt o' the broomstick beatin' both the deacon an' my ol' man! After that experience I sot down with my hands crossed in my lap, wonderin' what on airth wuz a-comin' to the country through the machinations of Satan, an' the work of evil spirits, by the pint or pill."—

How He Found the Pole.

In the summer of 1908, accompanied only by my mother-in-law, I started out in search of the pole. I thought it best at this time not to make any premature announcement of my intentions, as my mother-in-law was not feeling well and I was afraid that the notoriety might unnerve her.

We passed the winter in Greenland, where my mother-in-law knitted me some worsted neckties and a pair of sealskin suspenders. In the dead of winter we started north.

We both felt very confident of winning, as we had been practicing every winter for years by going sleighing in an old-fashioned New England sleigh.
Having survived that, the pole had no terrors for us.

On the 31st we reached the pole.
The journey up was rather tiresome,
as my mother-in-law insisted on waking me up at four o'clock every morning and reading family prayers.
She is there now.—Life.

Ballinger's First Law Case.

Richard A. Ballinger, secretary of the interior, tells of his first law case which he had at Kankakee, Ill. "I had hung out my shingle a good while before any client arrived," he said.
"Finally, one came. He was a weak, meek being whom three determined women had wedded in rapid succession, and he was being tried for bigamy. As all of the wives appeared against him we lost the case, and he got a term of two years, but this did not seem to worry him—in fact, he seemed anxious for more. He was taken to the penitentiary, and just before his term ended I got a letter from him. 'Do you think,' the bigamist asked, anxiously, 'that it will be safe for me to come out?'"

It Goes the Pace.
"Have you heard that poor Mr. Minis dead?"
"No. He wasn't ill long, surely."
"Ah, you see, medicine has made great progress lately."—Bon Vivant.

Selfish Fellow.
"He promised, if I married him, to gratify my every wish."
"Well, doesn't he?"
"No; now he's kicking because I want a divorce."

Defiance.

HOWEVER skilled and strong art thou, my foe,
However fierce is thy relentless hate,
Thou' firm thy hand and strong thy aim and straight
Thy poisoned arrow leaves the bended bow
To pierce the target of my heart, ah! know
I am the master yet of my own fate,
Thou canst not rob me of my best estate;
Though fortune, fame and friends, yea love, should go,
Not to the dust shall my true self be hurled,
Nor shall I meet thy worst assaults dismayed;
When all things in the balance are well weighed
There is but one great danger in the world—
Thou canst not force my heart to wish thee ill—
That is the only evil that can kill.

It is a great soul that can rise above the petty vexations of life to do the larger work that lies at hand.

INTERMITTENT showers over the country have started the grass to growing where the precipitation has been of sufficient quantity and the favorable indications for more rain has rendered the prospects more reassuring for the stockmen. With the surplus stock of the country largely disposed of, the stockmen may go through the winter with much less loss than was anticipated before the showers came.

We doff our editorial visor to the Sinton Headlight in recognition of the flattering comment that there is no better country weekly in Texas than the Anvil Herald. We have tried hard to make the paper creditable, and to win such an encomium is some compensation for the effort. And as to fraternizing, we have done so before under very trying conditions. We envy no man of whatever success he attains through his own merits and stand ready at all times to reciprocate in kind a "square deal".

We want every friend of this paper as well as lover of fair play to show their friendship for this paper. Call the attention of your neighbor to it and induce him to subscribe. If you can spare the money, send it to your friends or relatives elsewhere. It costs only a dollar a year and while it will not always agree with your way of thinking, it will always be worth the price. Tell us the news or send it to us from your community and help us to keep its columns interesting. Your favors, whatever they may be, will be appreciated.

WITH the present crop practically gathered, it is time to begin to lay plans for next year's crops. In this connection, it is well to remember that the first step in scientific soil preparation in this section is early and deep fall plowing and this should be done as soon as the soil has sufficient moisture for breaking. After this, a shallow harrowing of the surface after each winter rain will make an almost perfect seed bed, destroy the larva of myriads of injurious insects, conserve the moisture, and render a crop almost certain next year.

TEMPTATIONS come to all of us. They come in many and varied forms and they are some times so complex that he who is a stalwart in the face of some falls hopelessly before the force of others. To him who has felt the cold steel of malice and writhed under the poisoned darts of spite and hate there is no temptation stronger than to drive home the terrible dagger of revenge—to retaliate in kind when the opportunity comes! And it is said, on the one hand, that "revenge is sweet". But, though it be an inviting prospect, is he not wisest, is he not strongest, is he not the better man who scorns the forbidden fruit? "Vengeance is mine; I will repay, saith the Lord." And no man can stoop to an act of spite, no matter how deeply it may be hidden within the recesses of his own heart, and hope to escape the lashings of an outraged conscience—that still, small voice that speaks within. He is happiest who can do the noblest when the sorest tried. It is not a coward—it is the brave man—who prays, "Lead us not into temptation but deliver us from evil," and who proves the truth and beauty of the song—

"Yield not to temptation,
For yielding is sin;
Each victory will help you
Some other to win!"

Letter to S. G. Morgan.

HONDO, TEXAS.

Dear Sir: Nobody insures a $1000 house for $2000, because everybody knows that the Company pays only for the damage, whatever that was, and no more.

If people knew that it costs twice as much to paint with $1.25 paint as with $1.75, there wouldn't be much $1.25 painting done.

There are people who think $1.25 is cheap for paint, and they paint their houses with it: two gallons for one. It takes two gallons of $1.25 paint to make one gallon $1.75; and it costs $3 a gallon to paint it.

One gallon $1.75; $3 for putting it on; $4.75. That's the job.

Two gallons $1.25 each, $2.50; $6 for putting it on; $8.50. That's that job.

It isn't worth while to insure a $1000 house for $2000; it isn't worth while to paint two gallons for one. It takes money to pay for that extra $1000 that never can come; better buy a lottery ticket. It takes money to paint that extra gallon of whitening, china-clay, barytes, ground stone, benzine, water, whatever it is—it isn't paint; paint is lead-zinc-and-oil; that stuff is skim milk, not paint. It isn't worth while to paint skim milk.

Devote is the paint that takes least gallons to cover the house—don't forget the $3 a gallon for putting it on; and don't paint skim milk.

Yours truly,

F W DEVOE & CO

Firemen's Meeting.

The Hondo Volunteer Fire Co. held an important business meeting at the court house Monday night. The treasurer reported net proceeds of $30.00 from the Firemen's Ball of Aug. 24th, and steps were taken looking to the paying off of the balance due on the hose cart. It was unanimously agreed to not allow any of the Company's property to be used for any other purpose than fighting fire in the future, and the public is requested not to ask for the loan of any part of the Company's equipment.
The proposition to build a fire station on the railroad right-of-way in front of Mrs. Richter's hotel was discussed. A committee was sent out to solicit subscriptions for this purpose and there will be another meeting Monday night to take further action in the matter. A lease to the building site has been granted the Fire Company by the G. H. & S. A. Ry. Co. and it is proposed to build something that will be creditable to the town.

There is room in the company for several more active young men and it is hoped the places will soon be filled. Active members are exempt from road and jury service, but there are other inducements greater than these for the young men of the town to join.

Later, we are informed that the soliciting committee has already secured $126.00 which assures the building, as the company will assume indebtedness for the balance that can not be raised at this time.

We are also informed that another building site has been tendered free of charge to the Fire Co.

Mrs. L. J. Van Fleet and children returned Wednesday from their visit to Kyle. They were accompanied by Mrs. Van Fleet's mother who will visit here while her broken arm is healing.

The local lodge of Masons holds its regular monthly meeting at the hall tonight. There will probably be work in the Entered Apprentice Degree. All visiting Masons in good standing are invited to attend.

Workmen are now engaged in putting in the finishing touches on the school house addition and Contractor Jones informs us that the building will be ready to turn over to the Board by the latter part of next week.

W. H. Hearne, the D'Hanis bee man, was here Tuesday on business. Mr. Hearne informed us that this has been an unusually hard year on many beekeepers. Aside from making but little honey many of the hives died out, his own apiary of 150 colonies running down to only 38 at one time. Many others suffered like losses. However, Mr. Hearne says he has run the number back up to 80 colonies and hopes with the coming of fall rains to recoup his losses.

Winning the Professor's Daughter

By ELLIS STEPHENSON

It seemed incredible that such an altogether satisfactory girl as Nellie Masterson could be the daughter of a man so exactly opposite as the professor of sociology in Oread college. He was not good to look upon and he was not agreeable to come in contact with. Time and indignation and the militant exploitation of certain theories which he never became popular had transformed him into a something which bore little resemblance to the ideal man who is growing old gracefully.

Prof. Ira Newton Masterson's personal appearance and manner were in the most decided antithesis to the idea of social betterment, and it came almost as a shock to be told that he was one of the most eminent sociologists of the day.

Nellie idolized him, but the time came when her courage and determination were put to the severest test. It happened that John Rossiter asked her to marry him. She had known him always and liked him. She even admitted the possibility that they were made for each other, and that she knew there would never be anybody else who would be so dear to her; at least he had made the assertion, she had not denied it.

John Rossiter was the richest man in Oread. That alone would have discredited him in the estimation of Professor Masterson, but when to this was added the fact that John Rossiter's wealth was inherited, the offense was past condonation. Hadn't the professor devoted himself body and soul to the task of making it clear to mankind that most of the evil in human life is due to inherited wealth? His views on the subject had even been translated into Russian and had received the honor of censorship and suppression.

It was in vain that John protested that he should not be held responsible for something in which he had no active part. So confident was he that Nellie would fall into his own way of thinking, that he was almost thrown into a state of helplessness by the firmness with which she opposed his suggestion to regard her father's arbitrary dictum as a mere professional pleasantry.

"Why—why, Nellie, you don't mean to say you share his prejudices against inherited wealth, do you?" he asked with wide open eyes.

"I'm afraid I do, John," she replied seriously. "Anything father says seems right to me. I suppose I should make an exception of you if I were doing it."

"What in the name of goodness do you expect me to do?" he demanded excitedly. "Shall I sell all I have and give it to the poor?"

Nellie shook her head and sighed. "Do you really think I am worth it?" she asked.

"Try me and see for yourself," he returned eagerly. "I will do whatever you wish—gladly."

When he left her the expression on his face was not that of a man without hope. There was a determined look in his features, although something like a smile lurked in the corners of his mouth and his eyes were very bright.

In less than a fortnight from that day all Oread was in throes of a new excitement, Professor Masterson had been asked to resign.

It was John Rossiter who made his way to the desk and took a seat beside the man who found so much to decry in inherited wealth.

"Ah, Mr. Rossiter, it is you. I was expecting a visit from the committee of trustees," he said.

"I am that committee," said John with his best business manner. "I have been elected president of the board, and I come as a committee of one to notify you of our action in the matter of the department of sociology."

"Remarkable! I shouldn't have thought it possible," declared the professor, with every appearance of astonishment.

"The board had made up its mind to discontinue the department for the present."

"Yes, I feared as much."

"But, I wouldn't hear of it. Sociology will be taught at Oread as long as I have any voice in the council."

"Amazing!"

"To make an interest manifest I have today given a large sum of money to put the department on a firm footing and endow a chair of sociology at Oread."

"Young man you have done nobly!" exclaimed the professor, grasping John's hand and shaking it wildly. "Although I shall not be a part of it, I shall take the most joyful interest in the new work."

"I hope you haven't made any other arrangement for next year, professor," said John. "We would regret exceedingly to lose you just as the way opened to you for fresh opportunity for achievement. On behalf of the trustees I am authorized to offer you a chair of sociology at Oread, with a salary of $3,000 per annum."

Professor Masterson was speechless. His lips moved, but no sound came from his mouth.

"Don't you think I'd better go and tell Nellie that the blockade against inherited wealth is raised?" John laughed.

For an answer the professor, with a mighty effort to command himself, uttered the single word, "Go!"

SCARFS OF PRINTED CHIFFON

Wide Material Should Be Shirred Across and the Whole Lined With Soft, Thin Silk.

Charming scarfs that will be a real protection can be made from wide printed chiffon, and from three to four yards are necessary. In making the material should be shirred across the width in groups of pin tucks until the goods is only half its width. These groups are set in at intervals, leaving flowing ends.

Then the whole is lined with a soft, thin silk, the latter frilled to underlie the ends of the scarf.

The edges should be finished with marabou. Though of fragile materials, the construction of them results in a really practical and fairly substantial accessory.

A new and attractive idea in many instances is the addition of braid or a fold to all edges of a coat that forms part of a suit fashioned from white serge displaying a colored pin stripe. Often a suit of such material is apt to lack character, and this the coat edging supplies.

The color of the braid or fold is, of course, chosen to match the stripe in the serge.

In the case of the suit being worn by a short or stout woman, it will be better to omit the trimming, using something definite in color for deep collar and cuffs instead for relief.

GOOD THING FOR WORK-BOX

Useful Tray That Will Hold the Things Often Needed and Always Seem to Be Out of Sight.

The useful tray shown in our sketch can be made to fit any work-box or basket, and it is for holding those things which, when placed loose in a work-basket, always seem to disappear at the moment they are required. A piece of stout cardboard should be cut to fit just inside the top of the basket, and this is covered on both sides with silk and finished off at the edge with a fine silk cord.

A strap is sewn across the center under which scissors, bodkin, knitting-needles, etc., may be slipped and held in their places, and on the left-hand side there is a small loop of elastic for the thumb. On either side of the tray a loop of ribbon is sewn so that the tray may be easily lifted from the basket when those things which may be underneath it are required.

Dresses for Small Girls.

Shantung in the pastel and "raw" shades is extremely in favor this year for the small girl's frock and light summer coat, for which garments, too, eolienne is chosen by some of the exclusive designers. Quite two-thirds of the frocks for small girls are collarless, and both round and square necks are seen. As a rule, the shantung frock is made up with a low neck, and an adjustable chemisette accompanies it, to be put on when a high effect is necessary. But, again, even for the small girl's dress and coat the tailored effects are resorted to. As for the shirtwaist suits which well-grown girls of eight to ten years are wearing, these nearly all are made up with prim bands and stitched pleats that reproduce the tailored neatness of their elder sisters' waists.—Harper's Bazar.

Exquisite Tea Trays.

If one has a piece of rich old embroidery, too fragile to handle, it is just the thing to make up into a handsome tea tray. The embroidery should be mounted on a piece of linen, so that there will be no undue strain on the handwork in making up the tray. Take it to a dealer who understands the art of framing pictures. A pair of handles must be selected for the tray. These may be in either glass or ebony, if the frame itself is in that wood. Look carefully to the piece of glass which is placed over the embroidery and there may be no imperfections to mar the beauty of the embroidery. The embroidery used in this way will be a delight to many.

Pongee Petticoats.

Paris says the pongee petticoat is new. It is made of the natural-colored silk, with a scant ruffle, and very closely fitted over the hips. Its only trimming is an insertion along the ruffle's edge of coffee-colored linen lace or a few rows of ecru-colored soutache braid.

By using a pattern for the home-made petticoat, there is no reason why it cannot be made to look quite as well as those made by the skirt expert.

A Trial by Rice.

They have peculiar methods of trying suspects in Bengal. One of these is called "trial by rice." Every person suspected was ordered to be present, and all turned up. First the people were made to sit in a semicircle and a "plate" (a square of plantain leaf) was set before each. Then a priest walked up and down chanting and scattering flowers. The ceremony over one of the clerks went to each man and gave him raw rice and told him to chew it to a pulp. After about ten minutes they were told to stop and eject it into the plantain leaf. All did so easily with the exception of three men. One of these three promptly commenced to cry and begged for mercy, confessing everything and saying that another of the three was the chief instigator. It is a curious fact that fear, arising from an evil conscience, prevents saliva coming to the mouth, with the result described.

Mesdames Curry and Eversole.

It is hard to find a remedy suited to the ills of children, yet Mrs. Curry of Trowbridge, Ill., and Mrs. Eversole of Hindsboro, Ill., claim to have found it, and they are naturally anxious to let the rest of the world know. They say this remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, the great laxative, tonic and regulator. It is one of the few remedies useful to children that does not contain narcotics. It will do all that is claimed, and if you want to try it before buying, send your address for a free sample bottle to Pepsin Syrup Co., 119 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Illinois. It is sold by all druggists at 5c and $1 a bottle.

Foolish Habit of Fretting.

It is a great misfortune to have a fretful disposition. It takes the fragrance out of one's life, and leaves only weeds where a cheerful disposition would cause flowers to bloom. The habit of fretting is one that grows rapidly unless it is sternly repressed; and the best way to overcome it is to try to look on the bright side of things.

How Many Gentlemen?

Which of us can point out many such in his circle—men whose aims are generous, whose truth is constant, and not only constant in its kind, but elevated in its degree; whose want of meanness makes them simple; who can look the world honestly in the face with an equal manly sympathy for the great and the small? We all know a hundred whose coats are very well made, and a score who have excellent manners, and one or two happy beings who are what they call in the inner circles, and have shot into the very center and bullseye of the fashion; but of gentlemen, how many? Let us take a little scrap of paper and each make out his list.—Thackeray.

A Handsome Woman

Every woman may not be handsome, but every woman should keep with care the good points nature has given her. No woman need have sallow skin, dull eye, blotchy complexion, who pays proper attention to her health. Where constipation, liver derangements, blood impurities and other irregularities exist, good complexion, bright eyes and sprightly movements cannot exist. Internal derangements reveal themselves sooner or later on the surface. Headache, dark rings around the eyes, sallow skin, a constant tired feeling—mean that the liver and digestive organs are needing help and correction. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets give this necessary help. They work in nature's own way. They do not merely flush the bowels but tone up the liver and stomach to fulfill their proper functions. So mild and gentle do they act that one hardly realizes that they have taken medicine. Chamberlain's Tablets can be relied upon to relieve biliousness, indigestion, constipation and dizziness. Sold everywhere. Price 25 cents.

Why waste time and money experimenting with greasy salves and lotions, trying to drive the eczema germ from underneath the skin when the Windrow Drug Store guarantees ZEMO, a clean liquid preparation for external use to rid the skin of the germ life that causes the trouble? One application will relieve the itching and often times one bottle is sufficient to cure a minor case of eczema.

In over 2,000 towns and cities in America, the leading druggist has the agency for ZEMO and he will tell you of the marvelous cures made by this clean, simple treatment. ZEMO is recognized as the cleanest and most popular treatment for eczema, pimples, dandruff and all other forms of skin or scalp affections whether on infant or grown person. Will you try a bottle on our recommendation? W. H. Windrow's Drug Store.

Chrysanthemums.

Chrysanthemums stand fourth in commercial importance among flowers. Only the rose, the violet and the carnation surpass them, and that chiefly because the chrysanthemum season is so short, while the others can be had from the florist nearly the whole year round. Greece gave us the name. Chrysanthemum means "golden flower." But the name was invented long before the big butter yellow globes were known in the occident. It referred to the prevailing gold in the small varieties that were known. Strangely enough, the first chrysanthemum brought into Europe was not gold, but purple. It was a small flower about two inches across, shaped like an aster. Somebody took it to Europe from China in 1790—and, presto, the modern history of chrysanthemums was begun.—Argonaut.

How Disease Starts.

Nine times out of ten chronic diseases like rheumatism, kidney trouble, heart disease, skin disease, etc., start with a disorder of the stomach or bowels. To cure constipation, liver trouble, indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn, etc., take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which cures and prevents these diseases. It is absolutely guaranteed to do what is claimed, and if you want to try it before buying, send your address for a free sample bottle to Pepsin Syrup Co., 119 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill. It is sold by all druggists at 50c and $1 a bottle.

Shaker Music.

The music of the Shaker hymns (for they are very musical) is strangely sweet and mild in composition, though the words are often crude, coming as they do as an inspiration, and written by any brother or sister, regardless of genius.—Harper's Bazar.

When Merit Wins.

When the medicine you take cures your disease, tones up your system and makes you feel better, stronger and more vigorous than before. That is what Foley Kidney Pills do for you, in all cases of backache, headache, nervousness, loss of appetite, sleeplessness and general weakness that is caused by any disorder of the kidneys or bladder. W. H. Windrow.

AN AMBUSH FOR WASPS

Special Fondness of the Queens for Rhododendrons Leads to Their Death.

A curiosity in natural history that must surpass all records has been observed in a garden not far from Aldershot, says the London Daily Mail. A number of wasps were heard buzzing about a particular rhododendron bush. The gardener summoned the owner of the garden, and the two proceeded to slaughter. Within half an hour fifty queen wasps had been killed.

The next day a number more were buzzing about the bush under the same fatal but obscure attraction. It was noticed that the wasps were only attracted to this single bush, which is one of many. A suggested reason is that the flowers were a little further advanced and so more full of honey, but as a rule color is almost as strong an allurements as scent or the honey sense.

It is not unusual for a few queen wasps to be killed at this season, when the time for nest making is approaching, but this quantity is unparalleled. The experience suggests that the wasp might be exterminated, supposing this to be desirable, if we all grew specimens of this favored flower. The special fondness of queen wasps for white flowers of particular sorts has been observed before, and some gardeners grow such on purpose, but fifty in half an hour is a new record of slaughter.

The queens were killed by pinching the flowers into which they dived and which served as a shroud to the quantity of bodies lying around the deadly ambush of the rhododendron.

Skin Affections, Whether on Infant or Grown Person Cured by Zemo and Zemo Soap.—An Unusual Offer.

The Windrow Drug Store says to every person, be it man, woman or child, who has an irritated, tender or itching skin to come to our store and procure a bottle of ZEMO and a cake of ZEMO soap and if you are not entirely satisfied with results, come back and get your money. So confident are we of the efficacy of this clean, simple treatment, that we make you this unusual offer.

ZEMO is a clear liquid for external use that has cured so many cases of eczema, pimples, dandruff and other forms of skin eruption. ZEMO and ZEMO soap are the most economical as well as the cleanest and most effective treatment for affections of the skin or scalp, whether on infant or grown person.

To Be Agreeable.

It requires tact and judgment, as we all know, to decide when it is best to talk and when to listen. In the presence of men and women of superior talents and accomplishments, or of wide experience of the world, we must be wary and not let our vanity run away with us. To such persons we may not be able to afford intellectual stimulus, and therefore it will be well to avoid giving our opinions at length, unless these are called for. With men and women of small talent and accomplishment we must also be on our guard, lest they find us didactic and wearisome. It is with our intellectual equals, or with persons of a generous disposition who like to draw out the talents of others, that we feel the greatest freedom and attain the happiest results.—Harper's Bazar.

Don't Break Down.

Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause breakdowns. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run-down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters, the matchless tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirkland, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down, while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c. at W. H. Windrow's.

For a Sick Child.

For a child or infant sick with brain fever or inflammation of any sort, where quietness is very important: take two ordinary bed slats, wrap them well with cotton or fine rags and place one on each side of the patient. Tie the arms and legs firmly, but not too tight to stop circulation, to the boards. This will keep the restless child in a perfectly quiet position and help greatly in the cure of the same.

A Man of Iron Nerve.

Indomitable will and tremendous energy are never found where Stomach, Liver, Kidneys and Bowels are out of order. If you want these qualities and the success they bring, use Dr. King's New Life Pills, the matchless regulators, for keen brain and strong body. 25c at W. H. Windrow's.

The Philosopher of Folly.

"The proper time to stop kissing little girls," says the Philosopher of Folly, "is when they get old enough so that you both enjoy it."

"You Can Fool All the People Part of the Time and Some People All the Time"

It is a very common occurrence for some piano dealers to advertise a lot of unknown makes, of unknown value, at prices that are supposed to effect a saving to the buyer, but eventually the unsophisticated discover that their supposed bargain was a rather expensive purchase.

Our instruments are standard makes and priced in accordance with their intrinsic value. Every piano in our salesroom bears the guarantee of the maker in addition to our own. When you purchase a piano at this store you can depend on the quality and by reason of our one-price method you know positively that some other individual has not bought a similar instrument at a lesser cost.

The cultivated, the discriminating, the prominent, almost always use one of these makes:

MASON & HAMLIN, HARDMAN, BUSH & GERTS, HARRINGTON, HENSEL

The greater the pianist's ability, the more cultured the ear of the hearer, the higher will be the appreciation of the rich and colorful tones of these instruments. They embody a distinct individuality, bringing to the surface the best there is in composer and pianist alike. Our easy payment plan will enable you to use the piano while paying for it. Old instruments taken in exchange.

Posted, The King Water-hole is posted and bathing or fishing therein or shooting around it is strictly forbidden under penalty of the law.

JOE BRITSCH.

Y. P. KING.

The post office was moved into its new quarters Wednesday and the postmaster, clerk and the public are busy adjusting themselves to the new order of things. Hondo now has a post office equipment that would be a credit to a city many times its size and too much credit can not be accorded Postmaster Joe Fohn for his efforts in securing these splendid accommodations for the Hondo public. Likewise, Aug. Schuehle is due much credit for the improvement for it is his money that is invested in the building and fixtures, the government merely paying him a monthly rental for use of the same.

At a regular business meeting of the Epworth League at the Methodist church, Friday night, Sept. 9, the regular election of officers for the ensuing year was held and the following were elected: Miss Linnie Beal, Pres.; Miss Etta Horger, 1st Vice-Pres.; Walter McClaugherty, 2nd Vice-Pres.; Wm. Blocker, 3rd Vice-Pres.; Joe Rogers, 4th Vice-Pres.; and C. D. Conley, Secretary and Treasurer. Miss Verna May Hudspeth was elected Era agent.

FOR SALE—1300 acres, one mile from R. R. station, 35 acres in cultivation, more can be put in. All has a good clay foundation. 3000 cords of wood on it—live oak and mesquite. New five-room house, orchard, good well, gasoline engine to draw water, 15 acres can be irrigated. This is as good a place as can be found west of San Antonio. For further information write or call on Nic Deckert, Box 96, D'Hanis, Texas.

The Millinery Openings Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week were eminently satisfactory to both establishments, larger sales being reported than on any previous opening days in their experience. The ladies of Hondo are certainly to be congratulated upon having two such splendid assortments of fashionable headware to select from as is now on display at Hondo's two up to date millinery emporiums.

At a recent meeting of the Philathea Class, of which Mrs. G. W. Monkhouse is teacher, Mrs. T. C. Hickman was elected President; Miss Lora King, Vice-President; and Mrs. G. W. Bailey, Secretary and Treasurer. The class will hold a social and business meeting with Misses Lora and Linnie King, at the King mansion, Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

Several of the prisoners in the county jail became violently ill Sunday, soon after the evening meal, from what is supposed to have been ptomaine poisoning and medical attention had to be called in. Fortunately, all were relieved without any serious consequences. How the food became contaminated is a mystery.
